Rain and Snow Brings .20 of an Inch Moisture

Rain and snow Friday and Saturday brought .20 of an inch moisture and halted the dust storms which have raged during the past eight weeks.

The rain and snow started Friday and ended Saturday afternoon, falling slowly. Heavy rains fell all over Texas, starting on the South Plains.

While the moisture in the Panhandle was not sufficient to do a great amount of good to growing crops, it halted the dust storms, which is a great relief to the citizens.

Foreign Newspapers Shown In Exhibit At News Office

Newspapers from many foreign countries are now on display at the News office through the courtesy of Olin E. Hinkle of the Pampa Daily News. Mr. Hinkle assembled this display of foreign papers for the Panhandle Press Association meeting.

This display was given to Clyde Warwick to show at the News office, after which it will be placed at the College for the benefit of students in journalism.

The display contains practically all the leading European newspapers which are exerting such a tremendous influence on the policy of those nations today.

Planting Grass At Cemetery Is Planned by Many

Pipe lines for irrigation have been laid to most parts of the Dreamland Cemetery and water is available for irrigation purposes.

Many lot owners are considering planting blue grass on their lots, and members of the committee have investigated to find the easiest way to seed the lots.

The advice is given not to dig up the native grass, but simply rake the ground well, loosening the soil, sow the blue grass seed, and then keep the ground well soaked. Canadian blue grass is recommended. If well watered while starting, it will soon take the native grass.

Roger Gist and J. P. Hix Represent Farmers on Trip

Roger Gist and J. P. Hix will leave Saturday for Washington where they will represent the farmers of Randall county to carry a message to President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. The expenses of the trip are being paid by farmers of the county who appreciate what the administration is doing for the farmers.

800 farmers from Texas will join thousands of farmers on special trains in the gathering in Washington.

The idea of the trip was advanced when paid lobbyists were sent to Washington by eastern interests for the purpose of seeking the repeal of the AAA program.

"We are not asking the administration for a single thing," stated the promoter of the trip. "We simply want to tell the President how the program has saved the farmers, and thank him for his interest. In spite of some mistakes, we do not believe in burning the house to get rid of a few rats."

The entire agricultural program hangs in the balance, and those who make the trip will carry the message that the farmers of the southwest wish AAA continued.

Two Men Fined In County Court For Theft of Magneto

Warren Autry and W. D. Owens plead guilty in county court to the charge of theft, when they stole a magneto from John Batenhorst's tractor recently.

Autry was fined $50, while Owens got off with $1 and costs.

Mrs. Dan K. Usery will leave tomorrow for McAllen where she will visit with her sister, Miss Esther Rudolph until school is out. Miss Rudolph will return home with Mrs. Usery.

Official Visit Sunday and Monday at Palo Duro

PLANS ARE GIVEN

Will Push Development During the Coming Period

D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas Parks Board, made an official visit to the Palo Duro State Park Sunday and Monday, inspecting work which is in progress and planning for the future development of the Park.

Mr. Colp expressed himself as being highly pleased with the development of the Park which has taken place since his last visit here on July 4th of last year.

Approval of working plans for the Park during the next six months is expected from the National Parks Service at Washington during the coming week. These projects consist of completion of the lodge, hard surfacing the road, 15 more cottages, building three more dams, building an entrance gate.

Mr. Colp has promised Major E. A. Kingsley, superintendent, to return again within the coming three months in order to keep in closer touch with the construction which is going on at the Palo Duro.

Mr. Colp expressed great appreciation of the co-operation which had been given by the citizens of Canyon with the Palo Duro, especially the erection of the telephone line which was given to the Park, and all of the work which was being done on the Goodnight Trail. The completion of the hard surfacing will mean a great aid to those who wish to visit the Park.

Mr. Colp is highly pleased at the increased number of visitors who are coming to the Park. He predicts that with good weather many thousands more people will visit.

Spring Football Will End Saturday With Night Game

Spring football training will end Saturday night at W. T. with a second game between two teams picked from the big squad, and headed by Captain John Rankin and Ezell Champion. The first game between the two squads was played Wednesday night, resulting in a win for the Rankin squad, 18-0.

Coaches Al Baggett and Bob Cox have been putting their men through training since March 25. It is pronounced by the coaches as the most satisfactory spring training they have had for the future Buffaloes. The squad men have entered heartily into the spirit of training and have been putting up the same sort of fight which they display when the season opens in September.

An admission of 25 cents will be charged Saturday night.

His brother was sleeping with him, and the young man evidently died without a struggle as the brother was not awakened. Physicians upon examination pronounced heart failure as the cause.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the home, with interment at Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of the Griggs-Thompson Funeral Home.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harris; one brother, Thomas Harris; one sister, Pauline Harris.

Owing to heavy rains the men from several colleges were unable to reach Arlington for the contest.

Saturday night 150 men sang in the chorus directed by Robert Hopkins of Baylor University.

A trophy offered by a Dallas music house was given W. T. as a result of this contest.

The contest will likely be held in Dallas next year, owing to the Centennial being held during that time.

Cattle Must Be Kept Off Highways of County

Cattle must be kept off the highways or their owners will be subject to fines under the stock law of Randall county, is the warning given by Highway Patrolman Shorty McCormick. Six automobiles have been badly damaged recently by running into cows on the highway.

More than half the trees which were set out by the highway department have been killed by these cattle.

Highway officers have been urged to stop the practice of grazing the highway right-of-way, which is very dangerous to traffic.

A bill passed the legislature yesterday to give highway officers authority under the state law to stop grazing on the right-of-way.

Former Canyon Boy and Family Badly Injured In Wreck

A head on collision near McLean Sunday evening at 6:30 came near being fatal to six members of the Zane Smith family. Mr. Smith was formerly a citizen of Canyon, being the son of Mrs. C. M. Thomas.

A car driven by a woman charged with being intoxicated hit the Smith car in spite of the fact that Mr. Smith left the pavement in an effort to avoid the smash up.

Mrs. L. M. Rhoads, an aunt of Mr. Smith and Mrs. Levi Cole, a cousin, have been with the Smith family at the hospital in Amarillo.

Clyde Warwick of The Canyon News conducted the question box Friday afternoon. Canyon was represented at the Gridiron banquet Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. Warwick, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Miss Olive V. Schramm and Hal Collier.

In the election of officers Saturday the following were named: John L. McCarty, Dalhart, president.

REFERENDUM IS CALLED DECIDE FUTURE OF AAA

May 25th Set For Vote Among Farmers On Plan

VOTE IS URGED

Farmers Must Express Their Opinion of Action

Farmers of Randall county will vote on May 25th on the proposal to continue AAA. A special effort is being made by the farmers to get out a full vote in this county.

Wheat committeemen were in session Tuesday and issued the following statement and appeal to farmers of the county urging that they vote in the election:

During the week of May 20 to May 25 a referendum vote will be conducted to determine whether or not the wheat farmers favor a continuance of the agricultural adjustment program.

It is likely that the entire Triple A program will be discontinued unless the farmers express themselves very strongly in favor of continuance. Many people think that the drought in the winter wheat belt has solved all of the surplus wheat problems. This is not the case. Drought never solved any problem. It is estimated that 150,000,000 bushels of wheat will be carried over July 1 this year.

This, together with a crop of some 600,000,000 bushels will leave us with plenty of wheat. One good crop year with all wheat acreage planted will put us back on a basis of the world price level. It would be absolutely necessary to export surplus wheat. We could perhaps do this if we were willing to accept the world prices. At the present time the Liverpool price for wheat is about 80 cents per bushel, ocean freight about 15 cents, which would make a price of 65 cents per bushel, Chicago. The country price in the southwest wheat belt is generally about 20 cents below Chicago. This would give us a price today of about 45 cents instead of 90 cents, as is the case under the control program. Aside from any speculative market we would have, without control, a market of 45c or 46c for wheat at the present time.

European Conditions
Our problem is, shall we continue control until world trade regains a balance, or shall we junk our control and take our chance (Continued on last page)

The Canyon News

CLYDE W. WARWICK
Owner and Publisher

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 PER YEAR

Entered at the postoffice at Canyon, Texas, as second class matter. Published weekly at office, 1513 Fourth Avenue, Canyon, Texas.

Of all the fool ideas worked out this dime business is the limit—invest a dime cash, and five letters, and get back $1.562.50. This was such a piker's game that it was immediately increased to 25 cents, and later to $1.00. All you have to do to get rich quickly is to send out these letters, and the money will roll in. It is likely that a few persons will receive quite a dividend off the racket. The post office department is trying to stop it, although to most folks it is a little innocent game which is selling for the government many additional stamps. The real racket is that some individuals have mailed out thousands of letters with their own names on top, and a select group of friends following, changing an investment of a three cent stamp, a sheet of paper and envelope to bring them in a dime, or something like 6 cents profit. If half of those receiving their letter will bite, they have more than received their money back, and their select friends will likewise profit. Americans like a thrill, and are willing to take up most any sort of foolish stunt just for a change.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce is throwing brick bats at the New Deal, and denouncing all the Roosevelt policies. As a tool of big business, the U. S. Chamber will do everything in its power to promote the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, or a man of his type. The opposition to President Roosevelt is getting more and more divided every day. The Long-Townsend crowd would not stand for a conservative; the old line Republicans would not stand for a radical; the Coughlin crowd while denouncing both parties, is seeking to reform both to their way of thinking rather than start a new party. The President should be able to find the weak places in his program without difficulty since so many are pointing them out, and should be able to strengthen the part of his program which is falling down. To attempt to carry on those ideas which are proving unpopular might cause him much embarrassment next year. The critics of the administration are doing President Roosevelt a real service by jumping on him so hard at this stage of the game.

Many folks consider that NRA has been a complete failure, and should be rejected without further ado. The News holds to the theory that it served a useful purpose during a period of this country's history when only defeat seemed to face every line of business. At that time no one was thinking or planning a recovery program, but was bracing himself against the possibilities and probabilities of defeat and ruin. NRA extended a hope to the business world. Men started to talk recovery instead of nursing defeat. As a result the wheels of recovery started a slow motion, which has since increased in speed. While NRA sponsored many unwise policies, and attempted to curb American individuality, on the whole the movement proved a useful vehicle in challenging the American fighting spirit at a time when fight was very, very necessary. NRA is entitled to a quite respectable funeral, rather than to be burned at the stake under public scorn.

The Panhandle Press Association gathering in Amarillo over the week-end was highly profitable, in spite of the smallest attendance of the publishers for nearly 20 years. Those who came were highly optimistic. A brighter day is in evidence all over the Panhandle as the folks dug out from under the dust storms, and viewed the refreshed scenery after the showers. Panhandle folks are stayers. They have gone through many hardships, and suffered many things in the past, but each reaction finds this section come back with redoubled efforts to make up for lost time, and to improve this section to a greater degree after a period of resting on the oars. Great is the Panhandle of Texas; and great are the people who inhabit this section.

More honor to Panhandle publishers—John L. McCarty of the Dalhart Texan and Deskin Wells of the Wellington Leader are winners of the highest honors in the National Editorial Association. McCarty in the daily newspaper class and Wells in the weekly class. Both these fellows have won so many trophies and medals with their newspapers that to dress them up with all their winnings would make Napoleon ashamed of his meagre decorations. No section of Texas has as high class newspapers as has the Panhandle, as attested by the winnings of the publishers when they enter contests.

Farmers of Randall county who want to continue the wheat program must vote in the coming election. There are many who oppose the farm program, who are talking loudly against farm interference, and this small minority may determine a policy adverse to the welfare of a majority of the farmers unless something is done and done quickly. The coming election is designed to secure the opinion of the farmers. If the farmers of the wheat belt appreciate what the government has done for them, they must vote solidly for a continuation of the AAA program.

The government is starting work on the shelter belt for the purpose of conquering the wind and dust of the middle west. It would be a splendid plan if every home in this area should plant a number of trees each year to assist in this campaign. Every farm could easily have a number of trees around the water tank at little or no cost. There are many trees which may be had free of charge, which will greatly aid in the appearance of the home, and will aid in the shelter belt program.

Canyon is planning a big day on May 25th. Regular Saturday events during the past six months have brought many citizens of Randall county to Canyon on that day of the week. But something special is being planned for May 25th. The biggest program that has been given in Canyon during this special campaign will be staged on the 25th. Citizens are urged to begin their plans now to be in Canyon on that day.

The legislature is going to give the people an opportunity in August to say whether or not booze shall flow more freely than it is now doing in Texas. Ask the Zane Smith family, and scores of others who are in hospitals today as the result of week-end drunks whether or not they want more booze in Texas?

From a Republican source we read: "Legislation of the type which two years ago was rushed through Congress has been subjected to a searching analysis by thoughtful Democrats, and much of it found basically wrong." Oh yes.

While the small rain and snow of Saturday was not as much as this section would like to have, it beat all of the combined dust storms of the past eight weeks.

Did you ever see a more beautiful sight than the green leaves and grass washed clean of dust? No place is as beautiful as the Panhandle after a spring rain.

YOUR WIFE WILL KNOW

WHY WE BUY FROM WESTERN ELECTRIC

As the world's best purchasing agent, she applies the same rules of thrifty buying used by the Bell System.

A special study based on 3,000 separate items of telephone equipment and supplies indicates this fact: Western Electric, as supply unit of the Bell System, sells to Bell operating companies for a fourth less, on the average, than the lowest price offered by independent supply firms.

This of course does not mean a saving of a fourth on every item bought from Western Electric. Some supplies... paper, paints, poles, for example... range from 5 to 17 per cent under usual market prices. Others, such as telephones, cables, and switchboards, show similar variations in the amount saved.

But the important point, clearly indicated, is that Western's prices are appreciably lower to us than open market prices.

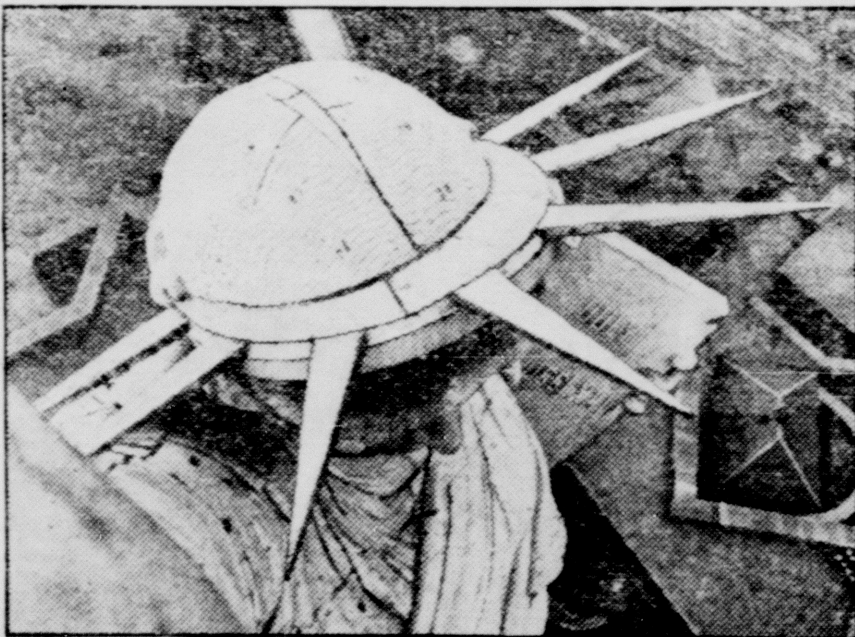

As one of the 24 associated companies of the Bell System, we buy most of our equipment and much of our supplies from Western because we get bargains there, because we get uniform quality and the assurance of exact performance... and because Western Electric parts are so designed that future improvements and developments will fit into and work with equipment already in use.

These factors help us materially in achieving the Bell System policy of good telephone service at fair cost to the user.

Miss Liberty Nears 50th Year

A little grime from the smoke of passing steamers is all that the statue of Liberty Enlightening the World has to show for the years that have passed since she began carrying the torch on Bedloe's Island in New York harbor, Oct. 28, 1886. A monster celebration next year will mark the 50th anniversary of the statue, which was presented by the French people to those of the United States. The picture at top is not impressionistic, but a bird's-eye view of Miss Liberty. At left, below, is a view from the ground; and at right, a closeup of her unwavering, torch-bearing hand.

W. T. Artists Are Recognized In New York Galleries

If Panhandle artists and art-lovers could have visited the galleries in New York during the month of April they would have seen exhibits of work of three artists who are or have been members of the faculty of W. T., and who have received inspiration for their work from Panhandle and Southwestern scenes.

Effie Rogers, who left Canyon at the end of the 1934 summer session, had the first one-woman exhibit ever shown in New York. It appeared in the Morton Galleries from April 8-22. Water-colors, figures, landscapes, and flower pieces made up the 20 pictures about which the New York Post said, "While much of the work is formalized, there is a curious emotional intensity throughout the work which gives it stimulating quality."

"The Village," and "Near Taos," were especially mentioned. Of the latter the critic said "Near Taos, a small paper, is so sensitively seen and directly set down that it makes immediate impression. Here is a young artist who not only has much to say, but is rapidly finding the means to say it with convincing power."

The New York Times critic, Howard Devree, wrote of Miss Rogers' work, "Her papers are purposive and possessed of nervous vitality."

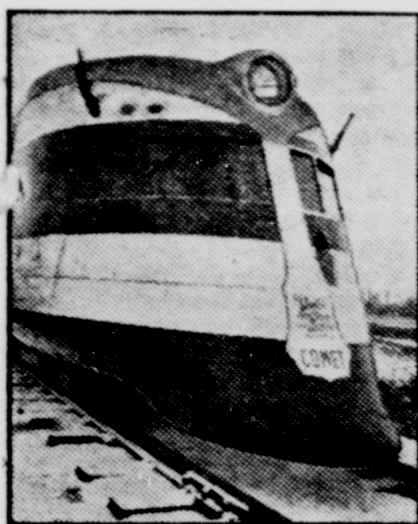

Isabel Robinson's Work
In the Industrial Arts Show at Radio City are hung two paintings by Isabel Robinson, Panhandle artist, who is the present head of the art department of W. T. They are water colors, called "The Greenwood" and "The Studio." These were painted last summer. This exhibit was set up by Alfons Bach, New York artist.

That Miss Robinson's paintings please the public as well as trained artists was shown recently when her "Street in Santa Fe" was voted the most attractive picture in an exhibit at the convention of the Seventh District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at Plainview. This picture will be exhibited in Austin at the State Convention next November. Other of her works have been a part of the Southern States Art League exhibits on several occasions.

The third New York exhibitor who is well known in Northwest Texas is Georgia O'Keeffe. She was once head of the college Art Department here. She is now proclaimed the foremost woman artist of America. One of her pictures in the April exhibit of the Downtown Gallery, New York, was suggested by Palo Duro Canyon.

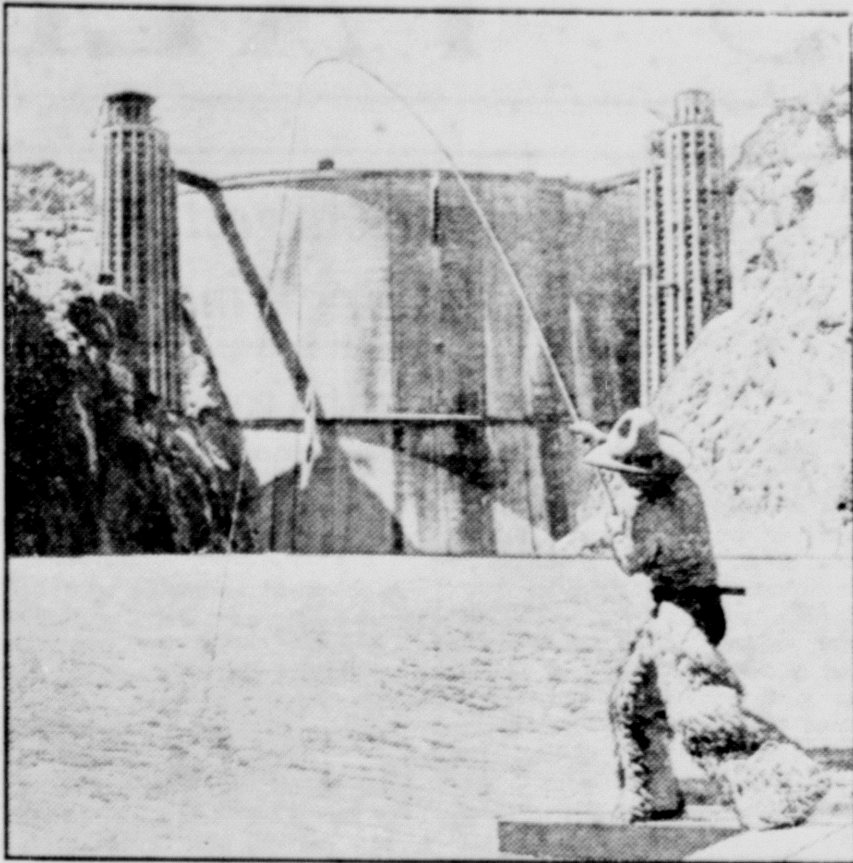

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Money of Tonkawa, Okla., visited friends and relatives here over the week-end.

Streamlined 'Comet'

Streamline scores again, this time with a new, serpentine train, built in Akron, O., and delivered to an eastern railroad for short, high-speed runs between Boston, Mass., and Providence, R. I. "Comet" is the apt name of this train, shown on its maiden trip.

Evicting Fish From New Home

The fish in Boulder Lake must think man a queer creature. First he creates a new home for them by damming the Colorado river, and then he pulls them from it via line and hook. But this cowboy disciple of Izaak Walton is too busy going after the funny ones to reflect how ridiculous it all is, and to think that where he is fishing was, a few weeks back, just a dry river bed.

From the expressions of these two members of dogdom's haute monde, it's not hard to guess the theme of their conversation. And what could be more eloquent of helpless resignation than the hand-dog look on the beleaguered creature at right. The amiable couple reside in a fashionable Surrey, Eng., kennel.

Early Season Feats of Ruth, Bottomley, Myatt et al. Prove You Can't Keep a Good Man Down

BY PHILIP MARTIN

SCANNING early season box scores, it would appear that quite a few baseball sages were a bit hasty in writing "finis" to the careers of certain big league vets. As Mark Twain might have put it, their diamond demise was greatly exaggerated.

Who, for instance, could have foreseen, when Babe Ruth dragged his aged frame plateward in the opener with the Giants, that before the afternoon sun sank in the west he would have accounted for the four markers which spelled victory for the Braves?

The doddering Bambino poled out a single and a long homer, accounting for three tallies, then scored another himself with the aid of a colleague. Not a bad performance for a time-worn gent!

And the spectacle of the perennial Sad Sam Jones hobbling out on the rubber to face Mickey Cochrane's Terrible Bengals must have wrenched the heartstrings of many a White Sox fan.

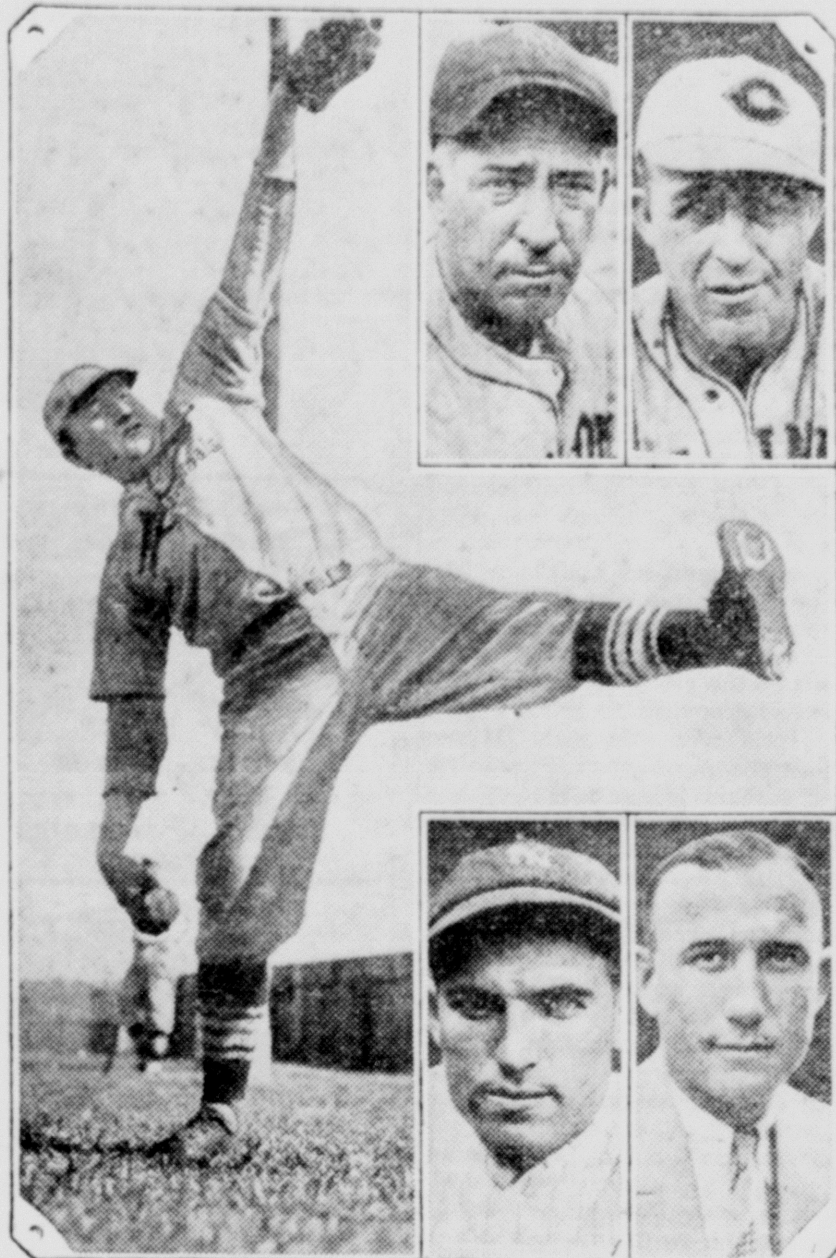

But with all of Sam's 42 years, when the Tiger hits were summed up it was discovered they had amassed the measly total of two. Some pointers for an old feller, we'd say.

For lo, these many years, Jim Bottomley has been cavorting around first base in National League apple orchards. The Reds were banking on young Johnny Mize to start the season at the initial sack, but that $55,000 price was too rich for their blood.

So Sunny Jim hopped off the bench, and proceeded to give an excellent exhibition of first basing as it is done in the majors, starting a triple play and hitting hard and often in the pinches.

CLEVELAND'S flag hopes were rudely jarred last summer when Catcher Glenn Myatt suffered a fracture of one leg. The peppery young-old receiver turned up at the training base with the announcement that his leg had completely healed. Nevertheless, those who should know shook their heads gloomily.

By the way, have you heard what a swell job of catching

Glenn has been doing so far this season? In one game the Redskins went 14 stanzas before Myatt took it upon himself to finish the contest with a timely bingle.

And then there's Dazzy Vance. By all the rules, this aged Dodger should be sitting in his favorite rocker somewhere, mumbling through his beard. Instead, he's out there on the mound, still delivering for old Flatbush.

You may also have noticed that Adolfo Luque, the ancient Cuban, is still burning them across for the Giants; and that Mark Koenig is playing a bang-up second base for the same team.

Some of those diamond patri-archs surely are giving Old Father Time the run-around.

SIDELIGHTS

by MARVIN JONES

The Southwest is very much interested in the question of soil erosion. No other question is more vital to our section of the country.

The President on last Saturday signed the bill which provides for a soil erosion service in the Department of Agriculture. He used two pens in signing this measure, presenting one to Congressman Dempsey of New Mexico, and the other to me.

This soil erosion service will have charge of both the emergency and the regular soil erosion programs.

The President has given assurance that adequate funds will be made available to do the work properly, both on an emergency and on a permanent basis.

It will be expected that the farmers will co-operate in doing the work and in such other ways as they may be in a position to assist, but provision will be made to do the task in a proper way. The CCC camps will also assist in carrying out the program.

In the meantime, an allowance of ten cents per acre has been made for the purchase of oil and gas for emergency listing. In order that there may be no misunderstanding, it should be made clear that this is no part of either the emergency or the long-range soil erosion program. It is an extra allotment, and was immediately available out of a small balance of old drouth relief funds. It was made available through the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, and was intended as a stop-gap until such time as the emergency and regular funds can be allotted.

I am writing this to make it clear that this small allowance is no part of either the emergency or the regular program, which will be handled by the Soil Erosion Service on a well-rounded basis.

In view of the tremendous task of fashioning a program over the whole country, it takes a little time to arrange the plans, even for emergency work. The situation in our section was so desperate, it was felt that even a small allowance from some old unexpended funds might be of some advantage.

The farmers throughout the nation have shown a disposition to co-operate with the government in the vast conservation program that is being mapped out. The conservation of our natural resources is a matter of great importance to all of our people during the years to come. No work of greater importance could be done.

When in Amarillo ask Dr. Hyden about your eyes. 38tf

Hugh L. Umphres at Rotary Luncheon To Discuss AAA Plan

Judge Hugh L. Umphres of Amarillo spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon, discussing the various programs of AAA and urging that wheat farmers vote in the referendum which will determine the future of this program.

"Unless there is a large endorsement of AAA by the wheat farmers, the program will be discontinued," stated the speaker. This statement was made by Secretary Wallace before Judge Umphres left Washington.

The speaker is in the legal department of AAA assisting the farmers in every way to make the program a success. He explained that with 800,000 wheat farmers, everything had to be exactly right before approval for payment could be made.

The AAA program is hanging in the balance today, stated Judge Umphres. A hard fight is being made against it by eastern members of congress. The department plans to discontinue the wheat program unless the farmers respond nearly 100%. In the recent cotton referendum, hardly 60% of the farmers voted.

So far as this section is concerned, farmers and business men have survived because of the governmental aid. The wheat allotment has proven to be drouth insurance, which the farmers must have or many of them would be on the relief rolls.

There are two ways to vote against AAA—first, not to vote at all, second, to actually vote against it. It is feared that unless farmers and business men start an active campaign to get out to vote, the campaign may be stopped on account of lack of interest.

A number of wheat committees were present as guests of the Chamber of Commerce: R. B. Gist, Clarence Beckman, W. C. Black, J. P. Hix, Henry F. Miller, C. E. Collins, W. O. Turpin, F. C. Gruener, L. T. Campbell, Carl B. Fiqua, W. E. Bennett, and George E. Mason.

Visiting Rotarians were: H. B. Lautz, W. W. Kelley and Arch B. Huntsley, all of Amarillo.

Uncle Sam Provides Alaskan Haven for Stranded Midwestern Farmers

A NEW "rush" to Alaska is under way.

This time, however, the lure is not gold, but a living earned from the soil. And the 1935 "prospector" are not an unwieldy horde of people from every walk of life, but an orderly group of 200 brawny young American farmers and their families.

Shutting behind them memories of months and years spent on relief, after vain efforts to make headway on drouth-stricken sub-marginal land, these modern pioneers gaze into the future with high hopes.

Financed by the government, they are making a fresh start, each with a 40-acre farm, in Alaska's fertile Matanuska valley, 3500 miles away.

Here, though winter's blizzards sometimes drive the mercury down to 40 degrees below, and summer's mosquitoes nearly reach plague proportions, the outlook is promising.

Warm breezes from the Japanese current in the Pacific, the daily 20 hours of sunshine during the three-month summer season, and rich soil of silt, sand, and loam, underlaid with gravel—all combine to provide excellent growing conditions.

Sheltered by nearby mountains, the valley abounds in spruce and birch trees, and there are rivers and lakes nearby.

Seven miles from the 8000-acre colony site is the town of Palmer. Here there will be a church for all denominations, warehouses, a creamery, school and recreation buildings. In winter, the roads will be kept cleared of snow, and busses will convey children to their classes.

THE colonists, who are being transported north in their Mayflower, a government army transport, were not picked at random. First announcement of the project brought responses from many parts of America. In one Texas county, everyone wanted to go.

But the government eventually chose 200 families from Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin.

Farmers from the northern part of the United States, FERA officials believed, would be most capable of withstanding the Alaskan cold. All those chosen, many of them Finns and Swedes, are of hardy stock. And their ages, between 25 and 35, are an important factor, since it will require many years for each family to pay Uncle Sam the $3000 for home, land, and livestock.

Four hundred saw-and-hammer men have been sent along to the valley to throw up the log and wooden cabins in which the colonists will live. Each cabin will be heated by stoves and lighted by kerosene lamps, and each will have a parlor, a kitchen, and two or three bedrooms.

And in these buildings, perhaps, a generation hence, children will listen spellbound to tales of their elders' migration to the "new land."

Farmers Vote

The nations of Europe, living in constant dread of war, have forced their production of wheat to the highest possible level for the reason that they desire to be in a position to withstand blockades and shutting off of foreign supplies. This has gone so far that France, heretofore an importing country, has recently dumped wheat on the world markets. A traveler from Holland reports that he saw no white bread in a week's stay in Holland.

Normal Carry Over

We might export a small amount of wheat to Germany if we are willing to pay a tariff of two or three dollars per bushel. It does not require an economist to see the utter impossibility of doing this. In former years we exported over 100,000,000 bushels per year where we are now exporting to the same countries less than 30,000,000 bushels. We use in this country for all purposes about 620,000,000 bushels per year. As a result of the drouth years the surplus has decreased to about a normal carry-over this year. If the drouth should continue for another 3 or 4 years to the extent of the past three years we might drop our acreage adjustments. However, the crop insurance feature, which has done so much for farmers in the drouth areas the past two years, would seem to make the program well worth while. If the winter wheat belt goes into the erosion control program wholeheartedly this area will come back to producing more wheat than ever as soon as moisture conditions become normal again. We could produce more wheat than before under a system of proper treatment of the land.

It is also possible that our exports may slowly increase under some form of trade agreements so that in about four years our production and sales would be somewhat in balance. The entire production control job has not been easy. If it had been easy it would not have been necessary. The more necessary jobs are seldom the easy jobs.

Program Self-Sustaining

The wheat program has been self-sustaining from the start. All money has been collected before it was paid out.

The kind of a job done in the execution and carrying out of a vast number of contracts between the farmers and the Agriculture Adjustment Administration has been a surprise to everybody. Few business men thought that farmers as a whole could get together and elect executive committees from among their own ranks who had the business ability to look after a business so big and do the job so well.

There has been no cost to the general tax payer except the processing tax on wheat which adds about 1/4c to each loaf of bread. The increased price of wheat together with the processing tax adds about 1 1/2c above the 1932 price. During the several years following the war we loaned money to European nations with which to buy wheat. Along about 1929 an attempt was made to make collections on some of these loans. The people of Europe decided that if they must pay any debts, including money borrowed for the purpose of buying wheat, they would simply quit trading with us; which they promptly did. They were willing to buy our wheat so long as we furnished them the money with which to pay for it. But when we asked them to pay, they immediately launched a program of increased production and living at home. It will be years before this trade can be changed to the extent that they will again buy a reasonable amount of our wheat. The new program of control in the United States is to be

Mother Love at the Zoo

Just as love laughs at locksmiths, mother love seems to thrive behind barred zoo doors. "Jocko," left, a Pittsburgh female monkey, with no babies of her own, lavishes all her affection on a small orphan kitten. And, in the touching, intimate scene at right, "Boo-Hoo," a London chimpanzee, hugs her sleeping infant close to her breast.

Cecil Newberry has been confined to his home by pneumonia the past week. He was reported to be improving yesterday.
